IT modernization Stephanie O'Sullivan, the former Principal Deputy Director for National Intelligence, oversaw the Intelligence Community's IT transformation. The four year effort involved all 17 IC organizations and addressed a variety of complex challenges, including common desktops, integrated call centers, cloud based infrastructure solutions, data sharing, and security Stephanie also had to grapple with related issues, such as budgetary challenges, congressional stakeholders, and acquisition obstacles. Not everything went as planned and she is willing to share her lessons learned with us Can you attend? Please RSVP to Tina Sung at tsung@ourpublicservice org<mailto:tsung@ourpub icservice org> Thank you for making time for these important conversations Together, I know that we can drive innovative changes across our department.
